

February 17, 2009

To Our Customers:

It is difficult to classify the DigitSaver Pinch Guards under the new Consumer Products Safety Improvement Act...they are truly unique products used by Parents to promote safety in the home but they do not easily fall into any particular category. While our products are not intended for play, they are products used for children age 12 and under, plus they give the appearance of being a stuffed animal even though they are not.

According to the CPSIA, "most stuffed animals would be considered to be children's products and presumably toys. A manufacturer would need to determine whether the design of the stuffed animals is such that it is subject to the lead paint limits, the lead content limits or the phthalate limits."

We at DIGITSAVER, LLC care very much about the children that will benefit from the use of the DigitSaver in their homes...the DigitSaver is a "mom-invented" product plus we have young children of our own. So, due to the similarities to "stuffed animals" and the fact that DigitSavers are used around children aged 12 and under, we at DIGITSAVER, LLC realize the importance of monitoring our products for compliance to the CPSI Act of 2008.

All DIGITSAVER products are compliant with applicable provisions of CPSIA regarding specific prohibitions and restrictions on lead paint, lead content and phthalates including the following standards:

*Small Parts 16 CFR Part 1501
Use & Abuse Testing 16 CFR 1500.50 - 53
Sharp Points and Edges 16 CFR 1500.48 and 49
Flammability of Solids 16 CFR 1500.44
Lead Paint Ban 16 CFR. 1303
Lead in substrate H.R. 4040 Section 101
Phthalates H.R. 4040 Section 108
Toy Safety Standard ASTM F963-07 H.R. 4040 Section 106*

If you have any questions about the following information, please let us know. Thank you for your continued support.

Jeri Homa Keating
Owner/Inventor, DIGITSAVER, LLC
Attachments: Certificate of Compliance, Report Summary

DIGITSAVER, LLC , 5396 E. Blaisdell Lane, Port Orchard, WA 98366 (360) 440-7550
Jeri@digitsaver.com; www.digitsaver.com